HOBBIES

I enjoy exploring new places and discovering new things wherever I go, as it keeps me curious and open-minded. I have a strong interest in pencil art, which allows me to express creativity and attention to detail. I am passionate about technology and AI, and I love building innovative solutions to real-world problems. Staying physically active is important to me, so I work out daily to maintain discipline and fitness. I am also an enthusiastic runner who enjoys pushing limits and improving endurance. Along with this, I actively participate in sports, which helps me develop teamwork and a competitive spirit.
